

Insurance protection designed to meet the needs of your Hemp farming operation

At The Co-operators, we understand that farming is unlike any other business. That's why we're dedicated to providing flexible insurance plans specifically designed to meet farmers' needs. It's what you'd expect from a company founded by farmers.

Coverage for Hemp cultivators

Changes to legalize cannabinoids created some confusion about the differences between hemp and cannabis – in both the general public and the insurance industry. Although The Co-operators does not insure cannabis operations, we do accept and have policies designed to meet the unique needs of hemp cultivators.

Explore the options we offer

Contact your local office of The Co-operators and get a quote to protect your hemp farming operation today. As with any other farm, we'll ask some standard questions to ensure you fit our guidelines before we can issue a policy.
